HIGHLIGHTS

Embark on a journey of holistic well-being where you can also work remotely. Disconnect from your regularly scheduled programming and reconnect with a beachfront wellness work-away at an unforgettable all-inclusive wellness resort in Mexico.

Imagine a paradise of eco-nuances and intangible delights cocooned between an undisturbed jungle and the glistening Caribbean sea. Now imagine yourself working remote from this magical place. This is Palmaïa, The House of AïA—an all-inclusive holistic and sustainable wellness resort in Playacar, Mexico.

Work remotely while also embracing well-being. Stay a month, or more if you'd like! Work productively from a fiber optic-powered suite on a natural, white sand beach. Release that pent-up energy by jumping from your video calls to salt-water swims, a wide selection of wellness activities, and so much more. Oh, and while you're at it, never do laundry, cook or clean!

Enjoy high-speed Wi-Fi or choose hard-wired ethernet inside the low-EMF-frequency suites. Dedicated AC units ensure your personal air stays cool, built-in Bluetooth speakers give your music great quality sound and your ensuite Nespresso machine will keep you going day or night.

Plantissa – A Lounge for Gathering and Finding Your Groove

Grab a table or settle into a nest of couches. The Atlas Club is Palmaïa's spacious, community oasis behind towering glass walls. Focus your concentration, nurture your creativity, and enjoy spontaneous conversation—all while relishing the amazing food, lightning-fast internet, health café, and juice bar.

Expert Care – Professional Support

Palmaïa is there to help with free IT technical assistance and computer repair advice (repairs and parts may incur additional cost). Plus, it's only a 10-minute bike ride to the Apple Store, so even in paradise, you'll stay on track when it matters most.
